Local Students In College Play 'Hit the Deck'

El Camino does it again! Already noted for its numerous musical and dramatic programs, the young college takes another stride forward in presenting "Hit The Deck," a musical comedy in two acts and five scenes by Vincent Youmans, remembered for his "No, No, Nanette."

The show will take place at Leuzinger Auditorium (Leuzinger High School) on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21 at 8:30 p.m. "Hit The Deck" was originally produced on Broadway and since then has been successfully produced throughout the United States an untold number of times.

Among the large cast are five students from Torrance including:

Pat Cecil, 2204-C Cabrillo avenue, Joyce Franzen, 2870 West Carson street, Joan Mumford, 917 Amapola avenue, Shirley Vandevanter, 3730 Spencer street, and Paul Smith, 20620 1/2 south Vermont avenue.

This satirical musical comedy tells the story of a lovely young woman who falls in love with a typical Navy job by the name of Smith. She follows him half way around the world. This becomes even more humorous when she learns that all the gobs aboard Smith's ship use Smith as a last name too. The many, comedy situations are well balanced.

DEATH TAKES V. P. TAYLOR

Services for William Parkinson Taylor, 67, of 903 Cota avenue, were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in Stone & Myers Chapel by Rev. H. Wesley Loeff, pastor of Central Evangelical United Brethren Church. Interment followed at Inglewood Memorial Park.

Death occurred April 29 at Seaside Hospital, Long Beach, following seven weeks illness.

A native of Weston, Ohio, Mr. Taylor had been a Torrance resident for 28 years and had lived in California for 31 years. During his entire residence here he was employed with Pacific Electric Company, Torrance plant, as an electrician.

He was a member of the United Brethren Church and was affiliated with Calumet Lodge F&AM, Toledo, Ohio. Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Marie Taylor, of the home address; two daughters, Alice Taylor McCune and Ruth Wallace, and a grandson Robert Wallace.

STAIR CLIMBING

Walking upstairs requires energy exceeding by 150 per cent the energy required to saw wood. Stair climbing also makes swimming and running seem at most effortless.

all of Torrance; a brother, George F. Taylor, Toledo and an uncle, George F. Lingo, of Hollywood.
